

Senior Software Developer

Ecebs are an independent specialist Smartcard software company based in East Kilbride, Scotland. We have provided Smartcard based technology for a wide variety of applications. We are a progressive software development company and are interested more in your problem solving abilities than in fancy shirts and ties. We use up to date development methods and are always looking for ways or products to improve our development process.

Senior Software Developer

An opportunity exists for an experienced Java programmer to design and develop leading edge systems and products. You should hold a degree (or have equivalent experience) in computing or a related subject. At least four years experience is required in the following areas:

- Java 2 Enterprise Edition including EJB V2, UML (UML V2 an advantage).
- Database design and implementation including object/relational mapping and integration with J2EE application servers.
- Familiar with Struts, Spring or Hibernate frameworks.
- Experience of Web technologies.

We are looking for strong team players; candidates must be highly self-motivated with a desire to succeed.
