

Software Test Analyst

Programmer East Kilbride, Competitive Salary

Ecebs are an independent specialist Smartcard Software Company based in East Kilbride, Scotland. We have provided Smartcard based technology for a wide variety of applications. We are a progressive software development company and are interested more in your problem solving abilities than in fancy shirts and ties. We use up to date development methods and are always looking for ways or products to improve our development process.

Software Test Analyst

We have a requirement for an application tester to design, develop and run test scripts to test large data driven applications testing both functional and performance aspects.

You should hold a degree (or have equivalent experience) in computing or a related subject. Strong SQL and PL/SQL skills are a must with any DBA experience an advantage (essentially Oracle experience but other databases would be considered).

Experience of the following would be an advantage:

- ISEB certification in Systems Testing
- Junit (or similar test frameworks)
- Automated test tools

We are looking for a strong team player; candidate must be highly self-motivated with a desire to succeed.
